Chest

Kumar Jyoti, Kumar Atin

Department of Radiology, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi, India

Correspondence: Dr. Atin Kumar, 175, Minakshi Garden, P.O. Tilak Nagar, New Delhi - 110 018, India.

E-mail: dratinkumar@gmail.com

An 18-years old man presented with cough and expectoration with fever for three months. His medical history included asthma and Type II diabetes mellitus. He was a nonsmoker. Imaging of the chest was undertaken, initially with plain radiographs [Figure 1] and subsequently with computed tomography [Figures 2 and 3].

What is the diagnosis?

Figure 1: Chest radiograph – PA view

Figure 2: CT chest – mediastinal windows

Figure 3: CT chest – lung windows