Supporting Information to:

Flavan-3-ol-Phenylpropanoid Conjugates from Anemopaegma arvense and their Antioxidant Activities

Nurhayat Tabanca¹
Rahul S. Pawar²
Daneel Ferreira²,³
Jannie P. J. Marais²
Shabana I. Khan²
Vaishali Joshi²
David E. Wedge¹
Ikhlas A. Khan²,³*

Affiliation: ¹ USDA-ARS-NPURU, The University of Mississippi, University, MS, USA
² National Center for Natural Products Research, Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, The University of Mississippi, University, MS, USA
³ Department of Pharmacognosy, School of Pharmacy, The University of Mississippi, University, MS, USA

Correspondence: Ikhlas A. Khan, Ph.D
National Center for Natural Products Research
Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Department of Pharmacognosy
School of Pharmacy
The University of Mississippi
University
MS 38677
USA
Phone: +1-662-915-7821
Fax: +1-662-915-7062
E-mail: ikhan@olemiss.edu
Fig. 1S. (A1) T.S. (Transverse section) of Anemopaegma arvense bark; (A2) L.S (Longitudinal section) of Anemopaegma arvense bark; (B1) T.S. of Trichilia catigua bark; (B2) L.S. of Trichilia catigua bark.