The “Abstract” contains an error in following sentence:

“Core temperature and the scores of perceived thermal and comfort sensations were significantly higher at the 11th km and at the end of the race compared to before the race, but not at the 11th km compared to before the race.”

The sentence was changed in
