Chair:

Christian Lovis
University Hospital Geneva
Service of Medical Informatics
Switzerland
E-mail: christian.lovis@hcuge.ch

<http://www.EFMI.org>

Objectives:

Traceability is an important aspect of health informatics and

- implies to track and trace physical entities and linking these entities to virtualized information flows. The major benefits of traceability are
- improving efficiency and safety of care processes, including the supply chain of drugs, devices, etc.;
- improved secondary usage of data for outcome research;
- measures against counterfeited drugs and devices.

Recent and Future Activities:

The WG is slowly growing. Interest in healthcare facilities is getting more important, while importance is perceived as major in most supply chain, such as medical devices or pharma.

- Organisation of a Survey on IT support to the decision & supply chains
- A special conference on traceability is planned for STC 2010.
